There is not yet heavy appreciable work necessitating the supply of the equipments to each Gramasevak. Hanks are purchased not by weight. So balance and weights need not be supplied and cotton lint may be weighed in required quantities and supplied from the Office of the Rural Welfare Officer for the present. The Rural Welfare Officer may be asked to state whether he expects to sell Khadi cloth through his Gramasevaks in sufficiently large quantities warranting the supply of yard sticks to them. Yard sticks may be supplied if necessary when information is furnished by the Rural Welfare Officer under this head. The yard sticks can be even made from timber or bamboo available locally without incurring any expenditure by way of purchases.

The Endorsement received is herewith resubmitted.
